

We've been there too.

It's the holiday season. You're home with your family. You've eaten your fill, and now you're sitting on the couch, catching up with everyone. But you just can't shake the feeling that it'd be even better if you felt like you'd just drank a gallon of milk.

Your grandma swears by it, and so does her doctor!

Dr. Osterley & Son's Milk Paste utilizes a revolutionary and proprietary combination of carefully selected chemicals to make your mind think it's just drunk a gallon of milk! The chemicals penetrate directly to the stomach, mouth, and brain in a matter of minutes.

Milk Paste is designed for exterior application only. Apply a dollop to a finger or applicator, and spread in and around the nasal. What 70 seconds is a success, you will feel a horrible pain in your gut and a stronger, sticky mucus coating your throat. You will also be disappointed in yourself. You're welcome.

Any improper use of Dr. Osterley & Son's Milk Paste is not covered by warranty or return policy. Manufactured with drinking water supplied by the Grinch County Water Authority.
